

Burke Center

Burke Center, a MHMR Community Center in Deep East Texas, has begun its network development planning cycle for FY 2011-2012.

If you are interested in being a provider in our service area, you are invited to complete the latest Provider Interest Inquiry form on the DSHS website:

<http://www.dshs.state.tx.us/mhcommunity/LPND/providers.shtm>

This website also has important information on the process, including a new requirement that interested providers meet with center staff within 45 days of expressing interest to be considered as a provider.

In order to be fully considered in the Burke Center planning process, please indicate your interest by March 31, 2010. Interest forms received after that date will still be contacted for interview and consideration but may not be fully integrated into the planning process.
